Medical care

BeyondWell (“BeyondWell”) is a voluntary wellness program available to all employees and offered by your Group Health Plan (“Health Plan”). The program is administered according to federal rules permitting employer-sponsored wellness programs that seek to improve employee health or prevent disease, including the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008, and the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, as applicable, among others. If you choose to participate in the wellness program you will be asked to complete a voluntary health assessment or “HA” that asks a series of questions about your health-related activities and behaviors and whether you have or had certain medical conditions (e.g., cancer, diabetes, or heart disease). You are not required to complete the HA.

However, employees who choose to participate in the wellness program may receive an incentive or incentives, which may be in the form of cash, a gift card, or other possible incentive. You may receive an incentive for meeting criteria like goal completions, assessment completions or other activities. These incentives and the criteria may depend on the options your Health Plan has chosen. Although you are not required to complete the HRA, only employees who do so will receive the incentive chosen by your Health Plan.

Additional incentives may be available for employees who participate in certain health-related activities or achieve certain health outcomes. If you are unable to participate in any of the health-related activities or achieve any of the health outcomes required to earn an incentive, you may be entitled to a reasonable accommodation or an alternative standard. You may request a reasonable accommodation or an alternative standard by contacting BeyondWell at info@beyondwellhealth.com.

The information from your HA will be used to provide you with information to help you understand your current health and potential risks and may also be used to offer you services through the wellness program, such as coaching. You also are encouraged to share your results or concerns with your own doctor.

Protections from Disclosure of Medical Information

We are required by law to maintain the privacy and security of your personally identifiable health information (“PHI”). Although the wellness program and your employer may use aggregate information it collects to design a program based on identified health risks in the workplace, BeyondWell will never disclose any of your personal information either publicly or to the employer, except as necessary to respond to a request from you for a reasonable accommodations needed to participate in the wellness program, or as expressly permitted by law. Medical information that personally identifies you that is provided in connection with the wellness program will not be provided to your supervisors or managers and may never be used to make decisions regarding your employment.

Your health information will not be sold, exchanged, transferred, or otherwise disclosed except to the extent permitted by law to carry out specific activities related to the wellness program, and you will not be asked or required to waive the confidentiality of your health information as a condition of participating in the wellness program or receiving an incentive. Anyone who receives your information for purposes of providing you services as part of the wellness program will abide by the same confidentiality requirements. The only individual(s) who will receive your personally identifiable health information is (are) healthcare professionals, such as health coaches, nurses, or other health professionals, in order to provide you with those services, should you receive them, under the wellness program.

In addition, all medical information obtained through the wellness program will be maintained separate from your personnel records, information stored electronically will be encrypted, and no information you provide as part of the wellness program will be used in making any employment decision.

You may not be discriminated against in employment because of the medical information you provide as part of participating in the wellness program, nor may you be subjected to retaliation if you choose not to participate.

You may opt out of receiving such communications through either going to your account settings and adjusting your communication preferences or by following directions to opt out or unsubscribe contained in the communication.

We, or a Third Party Partner or an Infrastructure Vendor on our behalf, may send you requests for feedback. You may opt out of receiving such communications by following the directions to opt out or by using the unsubscribe option contained in the communication. We, or a Third Party Partner or Infrastructure Vendor on our behalf, may also solicit feedback through links available to you in the Platform that will take you to a survey, should you choose to participate. Such participation is voluntary, and feedback may be linked to your user name by Third Party Partners or Infrastructure Vendors collecting the feedback on our behalf. We will not receive from our Third Party Partners or Infrastructure Vendors or provide your Employer feedback information linked to you.

For the App, when you are signed in, you may additionally receive a message asking if you would like to allow in-App push notifications. Push notifications are a way for an application to deliver information, including alerts, sounds, and icon badges, to your mobile device. Push notifications can be delivered whether or not you are currently signed in and/or using the application and whether or not your device is in locked and/or in sleep mode. If you do not wish for others to view your notifications, you should adjust the privacy settings on your device. If you do not wish to receive push notifications from us, click "Don't Allow" or a similar button, when prompted. If you allow push notifications from us but later decide you no longer want to receive them, you can adjust your settings options, or turn them off through your device notifications settings.

We may also transfer information to Third Party Partners who offer you additional services or features through our Platform.

Most browsers will allow you to disable cookies, can be set to notify you when you receive a cookie and thus give you an option to not accept it, or will allow you to choose an option not to have the browser track you. If you choose to disable cookies, certain functionality of a website or the Platform may be impaired or not work at all.

California Citizen Rights

Individuals who reside in the state of California, a "consumer," as that term is defined under California law, have additional rights reserved under the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) and the California Shine the Light law:

- Right to Opt-Out. We do not sell personal information.
- Right to Request Personal Information. As a consumer, you have the "right to know" and request that we disclose what personal information we collect, use, and disclose. See the instructions below for submitting a verifiable request, including through the online request form offered by us. You have the right to request the categories of personal information, as detailed under the CCPA, we have collected and store about you. In addition, you have the right to request categories of sources of personal information we collected about you, the business or commercial purpose for collecting, the categories of third parties with whom we share that personal information, and the specific pieces of personal information we have collected about you. Categories of personal information that we disclosed about you for a business purpose may also be requested, with the appropriate lists provided under the CCPA. Upon receipt of a verifiable consumer request, described below in this Privacy Statement/Notice, from you to access personal information, we will promptly take steps to disclose and deliver, free of charge to you, the personal information required by this section and within the timeframes permitted for responding to exercise of this or other applicable right(s). The information may be delivered by mail or electronically, dependent on portability and technical considerations under the CCPA. We may provide personal information to you at any time following a verified request, but shall not be required to provide personal information to you more than twice in a 12-month period.
- Right to Delete Personal Information. You have the right to request we delete personal information we, or our service providers, store about you. Please keep in mind our response to such a request, upon verification, may include an explanation of the business purpose under which we may retain your information (for example, we would need to retain copies of a business transaction for financial records) in accordance with the CCPA.
- Non-Discrimination. If you elect to exercise any right(s) under this section of our Privacy Statement, we will not discriminate or retaliate against you.

If you are a California consumer and have additional questions based on this section of our Privacy Statement, please use this web form, email us at compliance@cambiahealth.com, or call us toll-free at 877-878-2273. Also, be sure to check this policy for updates as we will review it at least every 12 months and make updates as necessary.

Identify Verification Requirement

We are required by law to verify that any data access request submitted under the authority of the CCPA was made by someone with the legal right to access the personal information requested. Therefore, prior to accessing or divulging any information pursuant to a data subject access request, under the terms of the CCPA, we may request that you provide us with additional information in order for us to verify your identity, your request, and legal authority (ex. authorized representative). Only you, or a person registered with the California Secretary of State that you authorize to act on your behalf, may make a verifiable consumer request related to your personal information. You may also make a verifiable consumer request on behalf of your minor child. Please indicate in your request if either of these apply, as additional verification may apply (ex. verify consumer's identify and confirm with impacted person(s) that the authorized agent has permission to submit the request).

A verifiable consumer request must provide sufficient information that allows us to reasonably verify you are the person about whom we collected personal information or an authorized representative. A verifiable request must also include sufficient detail that allows us to properly understand, evaluate, and respond to it.

In general, our verification process includes reviewing the information submitted in the request, comparing it to the right(s) requested; the number of verification points/methods required by the CCPA; and the type, sensitivity, and risk of information requested, including to the consumer, from unauthorized disclosure or deletion. An account is not required with us in order to make a request. We will use personal information provided in a verifiable consumer request to verify the requestor's identity and authority to make the request, or otherwise as permitted by the CCPA

(ex. record retention). We will respond to a verifiable consumer request within 45 days of its receipt, and if we require more time (up to 90 total days), we will inform you of the reason of the extension in writing. A response to a consumer request will be provided as required by the CCPA, such as through an account (if one exists), or otherwise by mail or electronically.

Access Request Responses

Under the CCPA, there may be certain circumstances where we would deny your request to access, receive, or delete personal information we hold. For example, we would deny requests where any such access or disclosure would interfere with our regulatory or legal obligations, where we cannot verify your identity, and/or where exemptions/exceptions permitted by the CCPA apply. We also have the ability under the CCPA to deny requests if it would result in our disproportionate cost or effort. Further, certain rights granted by the CCPA will not be effective until January 1, 2021. However, even where we will not substantively complete a request made under the CCPA, we will still provide a response and explanation to your request within a reasonable time frame and as required by law.
